

China Daily on August 12

After four people including Joshua Wong Chi-fung(Hong Kong) and Luo Guancong, leaders of the Hong Kong independence group Hong Kong volunteers, they are 23 years old. Another Hong Kong opposition politician was reported to have met with the U.S. consul in Hong Kong, Julie Eadeh.

Wen Wei Po, a Hong Kong newspaper, reported Monday that he had arranged to meet people in the United States at the Exchange Square at about 2 PM. As he transferred to an elevator to enter the 48th floor of the United States, he suddenly saw Martin Lee and Anson Chan, who had just come out and were taking the escalator down. They walked and talked with American consulate officials, even briefly in the escalator.

They were all well-known people, so I just turned on my phone and took some pictures without paying much attention to the people next to me." He found Julie Eadeh among them a few days later, when he looked through photos on his phone. "I read the news that Julie Eadeh met Huang Zhifeng and Luo Guancong in the evening. I didn't think she had met Martin and Anson before." "The foreign men with Julie Eadeh appeared to be dining with Martin and Anson in the U.S.

Several, including the Hong Kong newspaper Wen Wei Po, Hong Kong media exposure, Julie Eadeh about 5 PM on the 6th of this month, in Jin Zhongwan Hao hotel lobby and "all the volunteers of Hong Kong" the secretary-general Huang Feng, standing committee member of Luo Guancong and the University of Hong Kong as acting chairman of the student council affairs committee deputy secretary-general Peng Jiahao and Baptist University students meeting the foreign Zhang Kunyang meet, such as more than take them to the hotel the other places continue to commune, mostly content around the recent launch of a series of activities and new social situation of Hong Kong.

Some media even revealed that Julie Eadeh, who is now the "political director" of the U.S. consulate-general in Hong Kong and Macao, had been stationed in some countries in the Middle East for a long time in her early years, responsible for promoting local "human rights and democratic elections". The revelation of Julie Eadeh's frequent meetings with Hong Kong opposition leaders, at a time when the city's opposition is clamoring for "human rights and democracy", feels neither coincidental nor normal. For example, Zhang Kunyang, one of the figures of the opposition political organization Liyan Hong Kong, officially announced the establishment of the "Hong Kong college and university delegation on international affairs" the day after meeting Julie Eadeh on June 6, vowing to "extend the protest to the international front".

Editor: Dang Chao Feng)

